NOTES FROM THE PRESIDENT

As the vacations wrap up, your club is busy planning events and the Mustang and Ford show to be held on September 16, 2017. We anticipate, by the time you see this newsletter, the Mustang and Ford show will be nearly sold out again for the third year in a row. Currently, we have 149 registered out of the total 155 Fords and Mustangs, 82% will be judged. This year, attendees will hail from six states: Maryland, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, West Virginia, and of course all over Virginia! As a reminder, this show is pre-registered only. Get those registrations in! Please see Ben Bruno or email him at show@centralvamustang.com, if you have any questions. We will be monitoring IRMA and should we need to invoke the rain date, we will contact registered participants via the email or phone number provided. The show

The Galloping Gazette The Official Newsletter Of The Central Virginia Mustang Club September 2017 / Issue 369

rain date is the following Saturday,
September 23, 2017.

For August, we had about 12-15 club members participate in laps for charity at RIR. The weather was terrific after being re-scheduled due to weather. On Aug 19th, we had about 12 Mustangs and 26 members attend our second annual trip to Horton Winery. Horton was harvesting grapes while we were there and we were able to sample them, very interesting! Fortunately, we did not see anyone barefoot smashing grapes! Brewster's was still going strong every Thursday for free ice cream, and about 6 Mustangs attended to display their rides during the job fair at McGuire Veterans Hospital. Be sure to review the events list in this newsletter for updates on event dates and times. We have two other new events in the works later in the year, stay tuned! The events list is current, be sure to check out the Google online calendar, our Facebook page, and the newsletter for details.

MUSTANGS AT ST. MICHAELS

Former Scout Master Andy Fuhrman of Boy Scout Troop 736 and a very good friend requested me to arrange a 45 minute show and tell concerning Mustangs at St. Michaels Church, Springfield Road, Glen Allen, VA. On July 27th

HORTON WINERY TRIP

CVMC's Mike Peyton's brought his 1983 convertible, Tony Halls brought his 1995 SVT, and I brought my 2005 Convertible for the show and tell. There were around 14 Scouts of varying ages and 3 Leaders viewing the Mustangs. Tony, Mike and I gave brief descriptions and history of our Mustangs. Mike asked each of the Scouts what type of cars they liked and told some funny stories about his learning to drive which was well received by the Scouts.

I would like to thank Tony and Mike for bringing their Mustangs out for this show and tell. Hope these types of presentations will develop an interest in the Mustangs and hopefully become future leaders of our club.

On August 19th we tasted wine, enjoyed the winery, and cruised in our Stangs! We had such a warm welcome in 2016 and this year was no different. We cruised up Hwy 33 to Horton Winery in Gordonsville with 11 mustangs. We had a wine tasting reservation for 10:00 and after the wine tasting, there were we had lunch. It was a whole lot of fun.

SEPTEMBER 2017 CAR HOBBYIST NEWS FROM THE COUNCIL

Here is a reminder to all who own antique vehicles – there is no local tax on these vehicles of any kind. During the last session of the General Assembly a law was passed ending the so called local registration fee. This isn't a fee but a tax sometimes called a sticker fee. Many localities have gotten rid of the windshield stickers but retained the tax. Chesterfield County ran an ad in a newspaper about an August 23rd public hearing on taxing antique vehicles. A couple of alert hobbyists saw the post and contacted me. I contacted several people in Chesterfield government. The hearing was on a change in an ordinance to bring it in line with the newly passed state law banning registration fees for antique vehicles. So if your antique is being charged any local fee contact me so I can investigate. I've also heard from people who are concerned that Chesterfield lists the value of antiques at $100 for tax purposes. This is just how the program was set up and you will not be taxed on your antique in Chesterfield. It took me years to get all the localities in Virginia to stop the illegal taxing of antique vehicles. Contact me if you have questions about your locality.

I have heard from a staff person for the member of the General Assembly I contacted on the possible exhaust bill. I have been told the request is being reviewed and they will get back to me soon. Hopefully we can get at least a bill into the assembly and then work on getting it into law. If we can't get a bill to change the exhaust law for antiques made from 1950 to 1975 this year then next year we may look at changing the entire exhaust law. The current law is hard to enforce and prevents the installation of dual exhaust on vehicles that came from the factory with single exhaust. It also makes it illegal to install aftermarket exhaust parts that emit more noise than factory parts. Since no company makes mufflers quieter than factory mufflers this means any aftermarket muffler is illegal when installed on a vehicle that is used on public roads.

Al Gore's latest movie on climate change is bombing at theaters. His previous award winning movie on climate change had several predictions that did not come true. He said in that movie that the arctic and Antarctica would be ice free by now as well as mountain tops. He also has predicted that rising oceans from that melting ice would flood beach fronts. He predicted that polar bears would continue to decline in population.

The facts are those mountain tops, arctic and Antarctica still have plenty of ice – in fact more ice. Polar bears have increased in number. In 2010 Al Gore bought an $8.9 million oceanfront beach house in Montecito, which has long been a haven for Southern California's rich and famous. Apparently Al isn't worried about his beach getting flooded by the melting ice. Do as Al says not as he does - one example is the heating of the pool in one of his three homes uses six times the electric energy of an average home in America.

I think the "inconvenient truth" here is that even Al doesn't believe his climate change hype. Al's net worth when he ran for president in 2000 was estimated to be between $700,000 and $1.9 million (including his $500,000 home). Today his net worth is estimated at $200 million. Climate change pays well.

Of course some people are just a little bit crazy about climate change. I've seen articles that say people shouldn't own dogs or cats because they contribute to climate change. Here's a quote: UCLA professor Gregory S. Okin concluded in a study published recently that certain pets, specifically dogs and cats, have a "significant" impact on greenhouse-gas emissions as a result of their meat-based pet-food consumption and feces production. What's the answer? "Reducing the rate of dog and cat ownership, perhaps in favor of other pets that offer similar health and emotional benefits would considerably reduce these impacts," Mr. Okin said in his study, "Environmental impacts of food consumption by dogs and cats," which appeared August 2 in the journal PLOS One.

Not only are dogs and cats responsible for climate change but we humans also. I've seen one website that asks people to sign a pledge not to have children so "humans will go extinct and mother earth will be allowed to heal." Yes, they are that crazy.

The good news – gasoline prices have remained low this summer. This has helped to fuel our economy and create jobs. The United Auto Workers have failed for the third time to organize a union at a Nissan plant in Mississippi. Take a look at this quote from an online news article: Employees' overwhelming rejection of the United Auto Workers at a Nissan plant in Mississippi stung the UAW so badly that the vote had barely ended when the union filed unfair labor practice charges with the National Labor Relations Board. A likely factor in this latest UAW defeat — federal prosecution of former high-ranking UAW and Fiat Chrysler officials who allegedly diverted training funds illicitly — isn't going away: "the Free Press has learned that other former UAW officials are likely to be charged." Simply put, it's past time for the UAW to take "no" for the answer to its quixotic, down-South organizing quest.

Unions were needed in the past but today workers are rejecting unions. This means lower priced vehicles.
